

WELCOME TO STONEHOUSE GOLF CLUB

Designed by the legendary Mike Strantz, Stonehouse winds over 7,013 yards of steep forested hills, wide plateaus, and abrupt ravines. Against this tumultuous backdrop, the danger of deep bunkers, blind shots, and long carries is balanced by the relative safety of broad fairways and enormous putting greens.

Located in one of Virginia's original shires, James City, Stonehouse is named for a mysterious ruin. In 1838, one local noted, "It is what has been called time immemorial the 'Stone House'...and I am informed by a very old man who acted as our guide to it, that the oldest inhabitants, when he was a boy, could give no account whatever of the time or purpose of its erection..."

Local lore has it that John Smith originally built the Stone House, and that the pirate Blackbeard used the structure to store his treasures. Another legend is that Nathaniel Bacon built the structure to use as a fort during his 1676 rebellion against the colonial government in Jamestown. Sadly, locals carted off the unique brown stone over the years so that the structure no longer exists, but the legends remain...

Our tee boxes offer a variety of difficulty levels well suited for a family fun golf outing or a stern test for the most serious of competitive golfers.

Should you need any assistance throughout the day, our professional staff is happy to assist you.

Please be courteous towards your fellow golfers and keep up the pace of play.

Thank you for playing Stonehouse!

Sincerely,
Joe Sanders, Owner of Stonehouse Golf Club
